The Irish Horse Welfare Trust

The Irish Horse Welfare Trust, charity number CHY14634, was established in 1999 to help the plight of horses & ponies in Ireland. We rescue, rehabilitate and re-home equines that have been abandoned, neglected or ill treated. The Charity operates from its Equine Centre in Co Wicklow. We care for on average 75 equines at any one time.

IHWT is involved in the following work

- Rescue, Rehabilitation and Re-homing
- Ex-Racehorse Retraining for Re-homing programme
- Campaigning on equine welfare issues
- Promoting equine welfare awareness and education

Support Equine Welfare

The IHWT is working to position itself as a positive force within the equine industry. Our message to all stakeholders is that the equine industry as a whole must realise and accept that equine welfare cases do occur and there is a need for the services that IHWT provides.

IHWT is looking for your support. By working with us, you and your business, will deliver the message that Ireland is Welfare Aware. Sign up today and help deliver a positive impact for your business.

Benefit Your Business

Already on board.....

The work, dedication, the loving care for the horses freely given by all members of staff at the IHWT is priceless.'

Sean Cooney MD, Botanica International Ltd.

'Horseware takes its corporate responsibility very seriously. We try to support all sectors of the equine industry and believe that IHWT are working towards making life easier for the horse through its fantastic programme. We wanted to lend our support to a worthwhile cause.'

Horseware Ireland

'Horse Racing Ireland has supported the important work of the Irish Horse Welfare Trust with significant financial funding over the years, which aids the IHWT in many aspects of its charitable work. The racing and breeding industries warmly welcome the IHWT's Welfare Aware initiative, having published a document entitled 'Promoting Responsible Thoroughbred Ownership' which was circulated to every racehorse owner and breeder in the country.'

Jason Morris, Director of Racing, HRI

'The welfare of the horse must never be compromised in the pursuit of sporting excellence or commercial gain. This is a key value of Horse Sport Ireland's strategic plan. The IHWT does a great job in rescuing and re-homing horses and their welfare aware initiative deserves the support of the sector.'

Damian McDonald, Chief Executive, HSI
